THE "ARIZONA KICKER."
Interesting Items From the Southwest.

From the Detroit Free Press.
We extract the following from the last issue of the Arizona Kicker:

In Town.—We received a call yesterday from Major Jim Porter of Deep Cut, who owns the biggest mule ranch in all Arizona, and who will probably be our next Governor. The history of the Major is that of other hustling, energetic men. Failing as a lawyer in Chicago, he came west, killed a man at Cheyenne, bought an old mining claim in Nevada, shot another man in Idaho, ran for Sheriff in Colorado, killed a man at Tombstone, and finally settled down on a ranch at Deep Cut to enjoy the fruit of his labors and take things easy. His case is one which the youths of our country would do well to emulate.

A. NEW ENTERPRISE.—The Kicker is proud to announce in its present issue that Colonel Gilders, the indefatigable and eminent President of the Great Western Faro Exchange, will begin the erection of a handsome block of stores about April 1, 1891. This news is exclusive with the Kicker as all important local news is.

Colonel Gilders came to this town so poor that he had to borrow a sand bank to sleep on. His qualities were first brought to public attention when he broke the postmaster's jaw. He next killed a cowboy over on Scott's Run, followed it up by planting McCoy, the half-breed, in good shape, and in a year had won a high place in the esteem of his fellow-towners. Nothing succeeds like success, and nothing brings success so rapidly as hustling.

A Smart Boy.

An ingenious Iowa youth tied a thread to a nickel, dropped the nickel in a slot machine, got what he wanted, then withdrew the nickel by the thread repeated the operation until he had made a clean sweep of the receptacle's contents. He was arrested on a charge of theft, but the Judge who tried him held that he had committed neither burglary, larceny, nor robbery, nor even obtained property under false pretenses. He had merely done what the inscription on the machine told him to do—drop a nickel in the slot—and kept on doing it. Nothing was said about leaving the coin where it dropped.

The year 1900 will not be a leap year, for the reason that Pope Gregory in constructing the calendar now in use ordered that all century years not being multiples of 400 should not be leap years. Omitting three leap years in every 400 operates to nearly reconcile the civil and solar years.

Art is always its own best reward, and the poet's dearest object in life must always be to give to the world "the message that in him burns." Still, he needs friends, requires leisure, wants bread. Thackeray once wrote to a friend, "Our twopenny reputations get us at least twopence-halfpenny."

SATURDAY..... MARCH 21, 1891

ACKNOWLEDGES ITS FORCE.

Ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas has expressed his opinion of the Farmers' Alliance, the power which prevented his elevation to the Senate. He says the movement is growing faster than a majority of the people of the Eastern States are willing to admit, and it presents one of the most interesting political problems of the country. In the west, which is a purely agricultural section, it has taken deep hold on the public mind, and the evolution of the movement is closely watched by the deepest thinkers and political economists. The farmers have concluded that there are wrongs existing that need adjustment, and the growth of the organization is not ethereal, but has come with an undercurrent of reason that will ultimately place it on a solid foundation, which will defy all efforts of political agitators to shake. The ex Senator thinks the Alliance may be compared to the fesling of Republicanism which swept over the country from 1856 to 1860. This result might be more quickly reached could the West and South find common ground on which to stand. The East and North have recognized this and adroitly prevented a coalition. The West and South, however, are becoming apathetic alike to appeals and manœuvres, and when prejudices die out we may look for a condition that will produce tangible results.

This is a very candid admission from the distinguished Kansan. The East and North has done all in its power to keep the South and West, whose interests are in many respects identical, divided on politics. The farmers now recognize the fact that they have not been fairly dealt with. High tariff to create monopolies and make millions of favorites, who contribute liberally to campaign funds, do not benefit the grain grower or stock raiser. As Blaine expressed it, the McKinley bill does not make a market for one more bushel of wheat or barrel of flour, while it increases the cost of nearly everything used by the farmer and workingman. These facts cannot be controverted by appeals to prejudice, or disproved by waving the bloody shirt, and Republican Kansas, which gave Harrison 82,000 majority, joins with Democratic Missouri and Arkansas in demanding a reduction of taxation and the free coinage of silver.

BUNGLED LEGISLATION.

The record shows the despotic rules established by Speaker Reed for silencing the minority in the House of Representatives resulted in much bungled legislation. The second session was continuously engaged in correcting errors in the McKinley and other bills passed at the first session. A bill was passed which legislated Texas, the largest of the States, out of the Union and made it a part of the Territory of Oklahoma. The bill for the relief of the Supreme Court, as signed by the President, divested that Court of all jurisdiction in each and all of the civil cases upon the calendar, and the blunder was not discovered until the closing hours of Congress, when it was amended by adding a paragraph to the original bill. The House, by an eye and may vote, struck the appropriation of $150,000, for the purchase of seeds for destitute persons in the west, from the Agricultural Appropriation bill, yet the Act as signed by the President contains a provision appropriating $150,000 for seeds, and it will go on the statute books that way.

Read's rules, while adopted for the express purpose of preventing the minority from having a voice in the enactment of laws for the government of the country, actually deprived the majority of its power and placed it in the hands of the Speaker and the Chairmen of the principal committees. When a bill was reported to the House only members of the committee which reported it were permitted to discuss it, and frequently the Speaker would not recognize members of the committee who opposed it, and by his arbitrary rulings decided what legislation should be enacted.

The fact that no House of Representatives ever adjourned with so large an unfinished calendar as the last, creates the impression that despotic rules are not as efficient in a republic as free speech and a full discussion of every measure sought to be placed on the statutes.

THE REPUBLICAN SCAPE GOAT.

C. C. Wallace, who appears to be the brainiest member of the Republican party in Nevada, has excited an envious feeling among would-be leaders because he controlled the majority of the Legislature. Mr. Wallace was not elected by the people nor paid from the public treasury to enact laws for Nevada, and if he succeeded in shaping legislation to suit those whom he represented, the members of the Legislature are to blame and they, not he, should be held responsible. Sixty men, supposed to be the representatives of the people, spent sixty days, the full limit allowed by the Constitution, at the Capital presumably engaged in enacting laws for the benefit of the people. They were paid about $55,000 for doing so from the State Treasury, and if they violated their oaths and passed no bills that did not receive the approval of Mr. Wallace, the people should hold them accountable. Why should C. C. Wallace, a private citizen, not a member of the Legislature, be made the scapegoat of the members and be held responsible for the acts of commission and omission of the majority of them? If, as is alleged, he represented corporations at Carson, his censors will scarcely charge that he forgot or neglected his duty, and instead of being denounced, he should rather be held up as an example for those who were sworn and paid to represent the people to emulate. If all that is said of the ability and industry of Mr. Wallace in directing legislative affairs is true, the tax payers should by all means engage his services and have him exercise his genius in their interests, instead of going through the farce of electing men every two years, for him to use in the interests of corporations.

MORE VESSELS THAN MEN.

The number of enlisted men in the United States Navy is limited by law to 8,250. This limit has been reached and orders have been issued to the various receiving ships to discontinue enlistments for the present. It is now impossible to give the vessels in commission their full complement of men. The new cruiser Newark is one hundred men short, and there is scarcely a vessel in the navy with a full crew.

The Navy Department is in a dilemma, as the vessels named in the official announcement to participate in the grand naval review in connection with the World's Fair will require more men than is now allowed by law for the whole navy, without including the ships that are to be kept at foreign stations. This gives weight to what has been said by Ingalls and others concerning the navy. The principal aim of Congress has been to make large appropriations for war vessels to benefit contractors, regardless of the use made of the vessels or whether they are used at all when completed. The next Congress may remedy the discrepancy between ships and crews to man them by authorizing the enlistment of more men, or the disposal of some of the old war vessels for what they will bring, but the fact remains that the millions appropriated for cruisers without providing for crews to sail them had much better be expended in sinking artesian wells and surveying sites for storage reservoirs in the arid region.

It is better to spend the public money in developing the resources of the country and reclaiming the deserts, so that workingmen can make comfortable homes for themselves where only sagebrush now grows, than to bestow it on iron kings and ship contractors for building useless war vessels.

The Newfoundland Question Becoming Serious.

Special to the Journal.

LONDON, March 20.—The gravity of the Newfoundland question only begins to dawn upon the country. In yesterday evening's debate in the House of Lords, the leaders on both sides avoided as far as possible touching the probable complications endangering the peace of the Empire, yet could not avoid imparting the impression that developments are likely, which may give rise to serious trouble.

Lord Salisbury, in the gravest of ministerial deliveries, weighing every word with care, admitted that it was difficult to look without grave apprehension to the future, in view of the strong feeling in France against the slightest relaxation, even of the most extreme and unreasonable of her claims. Lord Salisbury refrained from disclosing what inducement would be offered to France to consent to an arrangement satisfactory to Newfoundland. He was equally reticent on the question as to whether an armed coercion would be used to enforce the Knutsford bill. The island, he said, had been the sport of historic misfortune. It was an illustration of continuity of history. These phrases recall the speeches on the same side which have preluded the worst forms of Irish oppression.

Will Chinamen be Permitted to Land from a Rowboat?

Special to the Journal.

URICA, N. Y., March 20.—In the trial of James A. Miller alias James Muldoon, for smuggling Chinamen into this country, now in progress before United States District Judge Cox of this city, Attorney De Angelis, who was assigned to defend the prisoner, raised an interesting point to-day. The Chinamen came to this country in a rowboat across the Niagara river. The statute provides that it is a misdemeanor to aid or abet a Chinese person to enter the United States by land, or to aid or abet any such to land from a vessel. De Angelis argued, and the Government admitted that a rowboat was not a vessel within the meaning of the statute.

De Angelis argued that coming by a rowboat could not be construed to mean coming by land. The effect of this construction of the statute would enable Chinamen to come to this country by rowboats. The Court held that for the present he would hold the statute broad enough to cover coming to this country by whatever means, but promised to give the question further consideration and change his ruling if wrong.

Refused to Exchange Gold Bars.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Acting Secretary Nettleton to-day rejected offers aggregating $850,000 for exchange for export of gold coin for gold bars. He said his action was in accordance with the policy recently decided upon. It is contrary to the best interests of the Government to relinquish at the present time for export any considerable part of the most convenient form of our gold supply. He did not regard it as at all probable that gold would be forced to a premium by reason of the present policy against exportation of the Government's limited supply of gold bars.

Pittsburgh, March 20.—A gripe is epidemic in Pittsburgh, and fully 4,000 cases are reported. The disease is far more active than ever before known here.

THE CALIFORNIA SENATORSHIP.

endeavoring to Ascertain What It Cost. Special to the Journal.

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—The committee investigating the alleged attempts at bribery in connection with the Senatorial contest, this morning examined W. H. McKenzie, cashier of the Fresno Loan and Savings Bank. He identified the torn checks found in the waste basket in the State Librarian's office as those of his bank and said the figures and marks upon them was in the hand-writing of one of his clerks. His cash book showed that he had on Saturday remitted to the Crocker & Woolworth bank $5,000 in currency. He did not remember that any currency had been paid out of the bank since the last remittance to their correspondents in San Francisco.

J. D. Burling, Paying Teller of the Fresno Bank, was then called and identified the torn checks and handwriting of the clerk. He added that the money was sent express to San Francisco, and the checks were the same ones that were wrapped about the money sent. He had never known manilla wrappers such as were found among the scraps in the waste basket to have been used by his bank.

Currency was usually wrapped up in blank checks which were about the right length. The date on the wrappers was evidently put there by parties receiving the package. The committee then adjourned till 9 o'clock this evening, when it is expected that representatives of the Crocker & Woolworth Bank and parties who are thought to have brought the currency to Sacramento will be examined.

A REPUBLICAN SENATOR'S VIEWS.

He Endorses Harrison and Thinks He Will Be Renominated. Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, March 20.—United States Senator Carey of Wyoming, in an interview, says: "The so-called free coinage craze in the West has been very largely exaggerated," said the Senator. "The great mass of the clear headed and conservative element is in favor of giving the present law a thorough trial, believing it will meet the full business requirements of the country. Western people do not believe the government may place its stamp upon a piece of metal and make it worth its full value. Thoughtful Western business men believed in sound money as much as his brother in the East, only the West believes in a larger circulating medium. There is talk of some Republican silver Senators about their constituents wanting to form an alliance with the south, in order to secure free coinage. It is idle; people west know it is to the northeast they have to look when they need financial aid. I think President Harrison will be re-nominated. No man unsound on the money question has ever been elected President or ever will be. General Harrison's financial views are a great source of strength."

A Sad Scene.

Special to the Journal.

GIBRALTAR, March 20.—A sad scene, one of the sequences of the Utopia disaster, was witnessed here to-day. The bodies of twenty-eight adults and three children were interred together in a trench which had been dug in the ground and specially blessed for the reception of the remains of the drowned passengers of the sunken steamer. All Gibraltar, all the town officials, officers of the British Channel Squadron and Swedish Man-of-War Freys, were present at the interment. Several more bodies have been taken from the wreck. Bodies of many of the drowned were found so closely clasped together owing to the desperate last fight for life that it was difficult to separate them.

A Philadelphia Bank Closes Its Doors.

Special to the Journal.

PHILADELPHIA, March 20.—Shortly after the Keystone National Bank opened this morning the iron doors were lowered and the following notice was placed upon them: "This bank is closed by order of the Comptroller of the Treasury." N. P. DREW, National Bank Examiner.

The closing of the bank was a surprise to most of the depositors. During the financial stringency last year there were rumors affecting the bank's solvency and a heavy run ensued, but the institution tided it over and was thought to be in a good financial condition. The largest depositor is the city of Philadelphia, which has on deposit about $400,000. The authorized capital of the concern is $500,000, and a surplus of $100,000 is claimed.

An Industrial Federation Organized in Washington.

Special to the Journal.

SPOKANE FALLS, March 20.—The Industrial Federation of Washington was organized yesterday at Oakdale. It forms an alliance between organized labor and the Farmer's Alliance of this State. A platform was adopted, advancing the views of organized labor and the Alliance. It was decided to hold the first regular meeting at Ellensburg, Washington, the second Monday in December.

La Grippe in Pittsburgh.

Special to the Journal.

PITTSBURGH, March 20.—La grippe is epidemic in Pittsburgh, and fully 4,000 cases are reported. The disease is far more active than ever before known here.

The Captain Catley Court Martial. Special to the Journal.

OMAHA (Neb.), March 20.—Several witnesses for the defense testified in the Captain Catley court martial to-day. They were non-commissioned officers and privates and all agreed that the Captain joined his command within six hours after it took the field against the Indians on December 30. Catley remained in command of the skirmish line, and when the Indians approached he manifested no fear, but ordered his men to lie down and reserve fire, while he himself remained standing in front of the company. The court adjourned until to-morrow to give the accused time to secure a copy of the Judge Advocate General's review of the proceedings of the former court martial which tried Catley in '78.

The Union Pacific to be Mortgaged for $250,000,000.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Sidney Dillon, President of the Union Pacific Road, today confirmed the report that the Directors were arranging to place a mortgage on the property. It is stated that a mortgage will be made for $250,000,000, the largest ever recorded, and will provide for taking up underlying liens as they move, and also for immediate issue to pay off the floating debt. The plan is expected to be completed in time to present to the stockholders at their meeting next month.

A Supposed Murder.

Special to the Journal.

LINCOLN (Neb.), March 20.—William Windnagel, proprietor of a meat market, was found dead in his place of business this morning with his throat cut. His wife discovered the body and saw William Kyle, a former partner of Windnagel, running out of doors. Kyle has been arrested, but asserts that Windnagel committed suicide. The two had trouble recently and Kyle chased Windnagel with a butcher knife.

A Low Pitch Standard.

Special to the Journal.

MILWAUKEE, March 20.—At a meeting of the retired League of Musicians today a proposition to join the Federation of Labor was ruled out of order and a resolution to make a low pitch the standard musical pitch of the United States was adopted. Davis of San Francisco made a lengthy report on the affairs of the Pacific Coast district, which showed marked progress.

Shipping Gold Coin.

Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Superintendent Mason received notice from the Treasury officials this afternoon that two requests for gold bars for export have been refused. When the bankers received this news they ordered $750,000 in coin at the sub-Treasury, which will be shipped to-morrow, making the total shipments so far known $1,275,000.

The Eight-hour Struggle.

Special to the Journal.

BOSTON (Mass.), March 20.—A call signed by Samuel Gompers, President of the Federation of Labor Unions of America, urges the necessity of an immediate contribution to the fund to aid the 150,000 coal miners, whose struggle for eight hours a day is to begin on May 1.

OPERA HOUSE DRY GOODS STORE.

To the Business Men and Citizens of the State of Nevada:

THE TIME HAS COME when I am compelled to plead my own cause in this boycotting business. First, I will acknowledge that I signed the first contract to close at 8 o'clock, also that I did all I could to carry it out and help the League; but as it has been my misfortune to have reverses in business, and as I was compelled to raise money for parties that I owe, I went to the Clerk's League at a meeting on two different occasions, and told them it would be impossible for me to close at 8 o'clock.

Now, when the League says I, on different occasions, violated my pledge, all I can say and prove, and that by Mr. Al Wilson, who is a member of the League, that it is FALSE, as Mr. Wilson has been in my employ since the contract was signed.

So far as my word is concerned, it is for the people to say, and not for the League to publish such trash to the entire State. I will further state that when the time comes that a few boys try to pull down and degrade a man when he has the misfortune that I have had, then it is high time to sell out and let the boys run the town.

Respectfully,

The Independent says a heavy snow storm set in at Elko Thursday morning and continued unceasingly during the day, melting almost as fast as it fell.

Travel, which has been very slack on the Central Pacific Railroad, is increasing. The east-bound train yesterday had a very large number of passengers aboard.

Some twenty-six Chinese left Teas March last week, all sick, which resulted in the hanging up of the borax mill for some time, as white labor is not in demand.

Swisher & Bender, the photographers, are producing some very artistic work. Those desiring any thing in the line of photography should not fail to call on them.

The Enterprise says: The Government contemplates establishing a mail route over the Antelope road from Bridgeport to the Mountain House, on the Carson and Aurora road.

The Central Nevadan notes the arrival of eleven professional sheep shearers from Reno at Battle Mountain, where they are waiting for the storming weather to cease to commence operations on Jenkins' sheep.

The Lassen Mail learns from W. Tremain that 30,000 sheep are being sheared at Amidee. Some thirty men are employed in the work. The wool will be placed aboard the cars and shipped direct to market.

A party of Boston capitalists arrived here yesterday on their way to Esmeralda county to examine the Montezuma mine. They spent hours yesterday behind one of Hymers' splicing teams looking at the country in this vicinity.

Coal of good quality has been discovered near Reynold's Creek in Owyhee county, Idaho. Chunks weighing seventy-five pounds, jet black, and free from impurities have been taken from the mine, at a depth of two feet from the surface.

The records of the Post Office Department show that during the two years of the present Administration ended March 4th there were 2,754 appointments made of Presidential postmasters. The fourth-class postmasters appointed number many thousands.

The growth of the Farmers' Alliance has been almost unprecedented in the history associations of any sort. Branches have now been organized in thirty-five states, numbering in all 34,000 separate local societies, and embracing a membership of fully 2,000,000.

The Central Nevadan does not appear to have much confidence in the Utah & Nevada Air Line. It says: "A. C. Cleveland, 'Black Wallace' and colleagues, with headquarters at Fourth and Townsend, were granted the charter. Just as it should be—the C. P. will see to it that the route will remain an 'air line.'"

The Genoa Courier says: A great proportion of last year's crop of Nevada wheat weighed sixty-three pounds to the measured bushel, and many farmers are sure they raised fifty bushels to the acre.

The will of the late Senator George Hearst has been filed for probate in San Francisco. It is dated April 28th, 1880, and it leaves all his property to his wife, Phoebe A. Hearst, to whom he commands his son, W. R. Hearst, having full confidence that she will make suitable provision for him.

An exchange says: "Here are some good things to eat for good health and good looks: Soft-boiled eggs, hominy, California figs, fresh asparagus, lettuce, toast, brown bread, bread and milk, lamb, fish and apples. Chocolate, cocoa, fresh milk, hot lemonade and bouillon drunk by the quart will do wonders for the woman who has been filling herself with tea, coffee, punch and wine all season."

The Central Nevadan says: "A serious accident happened to William Heid on Sunday last. While assisting to move a large hay rack on the Blossom ranch, one end slipped, throwing the entire weight on him. The sudden jar and wrench injured the nerves that enter the spinal column at the neck, and fears of paralysis were entertained, but the patient, who is lying in his home at the ranch, has improved sufficiently to warrant hopes of his ultimate recovery."

An exchange says: "The wheat crop throughout the West never looked more promising. It is covered with a heavy coat of snow and nature has done everything to give us a bountiful harvest. On the other hand, Europe has suffered from one of the severest winters it ever experienced, and all through the continent the cold and wet weather have practically killed the wheat sown last autumn. With less than one-third of a crop in Europe and a prospective large yield here, we have a right to look forward to a prosperous summer and autumn."

CURE OF ALCOHOLISM.

Marvelous Effect of Hypnotism on James Fair, Jr.

"My son Jim came to me one afternoon about six weeks ago," said ex-Senator Fair to an Examiner reporter, "and said: 'PAPA, I'VE TAKEN MY LAST DRINK ON WHISKY.'

Now he had said that to me many times before, and I treated it lightly. I was incredulous. But when he did not drink that day nor the next I was surprised."

"Was this just after the recovery from a long or severe illness?"

"Yes," replied the millionaire, "he had just come off what we thought was his dying bed in the German Hospital."

"You say you were surprised at the young man's resolve?"

"Yes; I did not understand it, and I don't quite understand it yet. But when the boy came home night after night after he had been exposed to the temptations of a lot of companions that would lead him astray if they could, and when I saw that he had not tasted a drop of liquor of any kind, I was surprised completely."

CHARLIE FAIR, ALSO.

"My son Charles," continued Mr. Fair, "is in the same way, for he hadn't tasted drink for a month before that. Why, for weeks young Charlie has been buying stock for me in Northern California, exposed to all the temptations that await a young man in that part of the State, and yet, at that time he hasn't taken a drop, and he's made a most successful trip, too."

It seems that the fame of

DR. BROWN'S HYPNOTIZATION

Of Carroll Cook, as described exclusively in the Examiner last year, excited the attention of many persons who desire to rid themselves of the taste for alcohol in its various conditions.

Among those interested in the experiment were certain friends of the two sons of ex-Senator Fair, and through these gentlemen the young men were induced to visit Dr. Brown's office.

Ex-Senator Fair was about to attend a meeting of some real estate corporation yesterday, but when he learned the mission of the Examiner reporter, he stepped into his secretary's office and described in a few words the remarkable influence Dr. Brown had exercised upon his sons.

CURED IN TIME.

It seems that when young Jim Fair was first hypnotized by Dr. Brown, he had been warned by the physicians in the German Hospital that greater indulgence would bring about a relapse of the nervous disorders from which he suffered; that is, the inflammation of the cerebral tissues which had been brought on by excessive use of stimulants would induce a return of the danger which threatened his life a few months ago.

Some one induced him to visit Dr. Brown—just as an experiment—and the young man consented. The hypnotizer exercised his magic on Jimmie's palate, and with entire success.

That afternoon a friend asked him into a well-known resort on Sutter street, above Kearny. Whisky was ordered and the young man made his first test.

The experiment had proved a complete success, for, as Senator Fair himself said yesterday, "Jimmie had to hurry to the sidewalk to escape being sick."

"POSH" AND "FULL" SIGNS ADORNMENT.

As the hours grew into days the aversion for drink in James Jr. increased until he avoided the northern side of Market street and the western side of Kearny street, because even the swinging doors of public houses affected him even to nausea. This may seem extraordinary to some people and nonsense to others, but it is hardly a matter of joke to the young men who tell the story.

Union Pacific Nevada Extension.

The Salt Lake Tribune says: A private letter from the East, which was shown to a Tribune reporter yesterday, indicates that the Union Pacific will not make its extension to Pioche this year unless the mine owners in that part of Nevada will put up a big share of the money required, after the style of building the Utah Southern extension, 125 miles, some years ago to reach the Horn Silver mine. This letter expresses disappointment at this action of the Union Pacific, because it will keep that country back and cripple the big mining interests about Pioche, Bristol, etc.

This leaves a good opening for the Rio Grande Western to go there, and it is heading that way pretty fast through the extension now being graded to Saline, and which will no doubt keep going beyond there. Then the proposed extension of that road east from California, mentioned in the dispatch, is liable to come via, Pioche.

A Good Dog Story.

The Genoa Courier says: "A few weeks ago a snowslide occurred near the site of the old Bemis mill in Alpine county, in which a woodman lost his life. A dog was missing and a few days ago while one of the woodmen was digging out some of his lost goods he found a dog sitting on his haunches in a hole just large enough for his body, under six feet of solid snow. After fifteen days of imprisonment without food or water the little dog came out all right."

The Committee appointed by the California Legislature, to investigate the charges of bribery and selling positions on the San Francisco police force made by the Examiner against Assemblyman Bruner sustained the charges.

Keith Miller, manager of the Oroville stage route, reports that a man by the name of E. Nicholson was stabbed and received fatal injuries at Butte Valley last Sunday. The Susanville Mail could not learn who committed the deed, or the cause that lead to the affair.

The Virginia Chronicle says: A Mr. Slingsland of Dayton, who hauls wood to this city and sells it by the load, was arrested yesterday for peddling without a license. The arrested party gave bonds for his appearance, and the case has been set in Justice Cooke's Court for Tuesday next.

Entirely Different Grounds.

As I sat on the hotel veranda in a Georgia town I noticed a colored friend and brother working my way. When he finally stood before me, hat in hand, and bowing in much earnestness, I asked:

"Well, George, did a cyclone strike your meeting-house?"

"No, not 'zactly, sah."

"Want to raise money for the preacher?"

"Ha'dly, sah, ha'dly."

"After a bell for the steeple?"

"No, sah—can't say as we am."

"Then you want Sunday-school books?"

"No, sah."

"But you came here to strike me for a quarter. I can see it in your looks."

"Wall, yes, sah."

"And do you ask for it on church grounds?"

"No, sah. I has other grounds, sah. I has a particular ground of my own, sah."

"Well, what is it?"

"Why, sah, I was gwine to ask fur it on de ground that you didn't know I just got outer jail for stealin' a bag o' cotton!"

He got it.—Detroit Free Press.
